Parliamentary Progress—The Irish Land Bill Passed in the Commons.
LONDON, May 30, 1870.

In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone made the closing speech on the Irish Land bill. He warmly defended the bill as it stood, with the amendments which had been made, and thanked the House for its steadfast support.

The bill was then read for the third time and passed.

It goes immediately to the Lords.

The Inland Revenue Stamp Duties bill was read a second time.

The House went into Committee on Supply.

Mr. Otway, Under Foreign Secretary, in reply to an inquiry by Mr. Macfee, said negotiations between the British and American governments for a copyright treaty were not sufficiently advanced to admit of their being made public; and besides they did not require legislative sanction.

Sir Robert P. Collier, Attorney General, said legislation to protect the patent rights of exhibitors at the proposed International Workingmen's Exhibition was contemplated.

Reforms Before the Peers.
LONDON, May 30, 1870.

In the House of Lords to-night a strong effort was made to postpone the consideration of the High Court of Justice bill.

The Marquis of Salisbury said all the judges and two ex-chancellors were opposed to the measure.

The Lord Chancellor refused to consent to a postponement.

Lord Cairns announced his intention of opposing the bill clause by clause.

The House then went into committee on the bill and adopted several amendments.

The Irish Land bill was received from the House of Commons and read for the first time.

The House adjourned.

The "Derby"—Betting on the Great Event.
LONDON, May 30, 1870.

The following is the present state of the betting among the sporting men on the race for the Derby stakes at Epsom on Wednesday next—Six to four on Mr. Merrett's b. c. Macgregor, and seven to one against Mr. Dawson's ch. c. Camel.

The Great "Event" at Epsom.
LONDON, May 30, 1870.

The race for the Derby at Epsom Downs next Wednesday will be the nineteenth contest in the series of the great European turf event since its establishment.

The first race, in the year 1750, was won by Diomed, owned by Sir C. Bunbury. Diomed was sired by Florio. He was ridden on the "great occasion" by S. Arnall.

Macgregor, Sunshine, Camel, Prince of Wales, Bridgwater and Sunlight are the favorites in London just now for the Derby. Some few days since there was very little doing in the English "houses," except wagering with regard to Sunshine for the Derby. After 10 to 1 had been freely taken about her it was still offered, but her supporters held out for 12 to 1, which odds were not obtainable.

The closing prices then were—120 to 100 against Macgregor (taken), 10 to 1 against Sunshine (taken) to 2400 and then offered, 12 to 1 against 100 to 1 against Camel (offered), 120 to 1 against 20 to 1 against Macgregor (offered), 20 to 1 against 20 to 1 against Bridgwater (offered), 25 to 1 against Kingcraft (offered), 500 even on Bridgwater against Palmerston.

Billiard Championship—The Challenge Cup Game.
LONDON, May 30, 1870.

The championship match at billiards for the challenge cup and £100 a side, between John Roberts, Jr., champion, and J. A. Bowles, of Brighton, was played to-day at St. James Hall.

The terms were 1,000 points up. The playing was careful on both sides, and, consequently, slow. Mr. Roberts won, the count standing—

Roberts..... 1,000
Bowles..... 754

The highest breaks were fifty-seven for Roberts, and two of thirty-one each for Bowles.

President Céspedes' Son Captured—Plantations Destroyed—Seven Insurgent Prisoners Shot—President Céspedes Attempting to Escape.

HAVANA, May 30, 1870.

Captain General de Rodas has received information that Colonel Benegas captured Céspedes, son of President Céspedes, five leagues from Guaimaro, and that he had escaped during the surprise of Céspedes' forces near the above mentioned place. The American Colonel, John Clancy, was killed.

General Canavia has ordered the destruction of the plantations in the Camaguey district, and a number of the largest have already been burned.

Among the prisoners recently captured were the party who killed the seven woodcutters on the outskirts of Puerto Principe. Captain General de Rodas picked out seven of the band and had them executed in retaliation for the deaths of the woodcutters.

A telegram from Puerto Principe to the For de Cuba says it is positively known that President Céspedes is trying to escape to the United States, but is prevented accomplishing his purpose by his partisans.

The insurgents continue to present themselves in large numbers to the government forces and ask for pardon.

THE INDIANS.
Outrages in Wyoming by the Sioux and Arapahoes.

WYOMING, Territory, May 30, 1870.

The Indians made a raid on the stage route from here to South Pass yesterday, and ran off ten head of stage horses at Big Sandy station, and wounded one man named John Cornes. All the stock between here and South Pass is supposed to be gone. The country is full of Indians, known to be Arapahoes and Sioux.

Burning of Hubbard's Packing House in Chicago—Loss $50,000.

CHICAGO, May 30, 1870.

At half-past one o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out in G. H. Hubbard & Co.'s packing house on Claymont avenue, North Division, and in less than an hour it was entirely destroyed. The loss is $50,000. The amount of stock in the building was small. The fire extended to the North Chicago Rolling Mills, immediately adjoining, and at one time it looked as if those extensive works would be consumed; but the one thousand men at work, by great energy and perseverance, succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The loss on the rolling mills was small. The loss on the pack packing house is covered by insurance.

The fire which occurred yesterday morning on South Canal street was more destructive than first reported. The loss will reach $25,000, divided as follows:—Burkhardt, Hubbard & Co., machinists, $9,000; fully insured; Crossland and Conductor in the frame manufacturers, $16,000, insured for $7,000. The insurance is divided among twenty Eastern offices.

CROP REPORTS.
AUGUSTA, Ga., May 30, 1870.

The wheat crop of Georgia gives good promises for a large yield. A small shipment of new flour was made to-day.

South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama exchanges speak encouragingly of the corn and cotton crops.

The rains last week fell very general and timely; a larger area of land was planted and more fertilizers were used. Planters are working hard.

AMERICAN JOCKEY CLUB.

The exciting sports of the turf open at Jerome Park on Saturday next, and will be continued on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week. To say that the meeting will be one of the grandest ever held in America is no exaggeration. Near 150 horses are already on the ground, representing every section of the country. Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Maryland, Kentucky, Alabama, Missouri, Ohio, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New York and other States are represented by their most spirited turfmen and finest courses. Hence there is some sectional rivalry, which will give additional interest to the contests.

The number of starters in each race will be larger than usual, and the prominent events will bring together the best horses in America. It is a fact worthy of notice that the owners and backers of some of the distinguished horses that will certainly be exhibiting considerable nervousness, and "hot favorites" are beginning to be very scarce. Among so many good ones it is very difficult to select the best. Narragansett, Abdel Kader, Gleney, Vespucci, General York, Helmsford, Cottrill, Corsican and other distinguished racers are exceedingly respectful to each other; and that quite a number now in the "dark" will emerge as favorites, is not at all improbable.

The Belmont Stakes, for which there are forty-six entries, will bring to the post a splendid lot of three year olds. Mr. Belmont's stable will probably be represented by Nellie, James and Telegram; Captain Moore's, by Foster and Maggie B. B.; Mr. Sanford's, by Stumps and Gremlin Red; Mr. Morris', by Remorseless and Temination; Governor Bowler's, by My Maryland; Mr. Swigert's, by King Fisher and Annette; Mr. Dowell's, by Bellicio and Midway; and at least half a dozen others might be named as probable starters. A finer lot of three year olds have never started in any race in this country.

The course was never in better condition than at present, and from early dawn until nine or ten o'clock each morning the swarms of horses are galloping in platoons, preparing for war. The "early birds" who have the spirit to desert their beds for a morning ride to the Park are amply rewarded by the capital sport furnished by the numerous trials which they witness, and their improved appetites are properly responded to by the excellent steward of the club restaurant.

The programme for the meeting is varied and very attractive, embracing dashes, races of heats, hurdle races and the grand steeplechase. The first steeplechase over the grounds at Jerome Park (run last fall) created an excitement which will long be remembered. So thoroughly were the people enthused by the magnificent contest that beans and apples were thrown in the most boisterous applause, and even the losers seemed happy in the thought that their unfortunate favorites were almost winners. Many lingered upon the grounds until a late hour, prolonging their pleasures by recounting the stirring events of the day. A quaint broad street operator, who had with much difficulty prevailed upon his lady to accompany him to the course, declared the next morning that he could not get her away from the club house "until after the lights were put out."

Should the weather prove favorable the attendance at the approaching meeting will be immensely numerous. To avoid unpleasant delay at the entrances we would advise the purchase of tickets and badges in the city. They can be obtained at the office of the club, No. 920 Broadway.

POOL SELLING OF THE GREAT TROT TO-DAY.

Pool selling was lively last night at Riley's, corner of Broadway and Twenty-eighth street, where being at least 200 gentlemen present, who went for the pools for to-day's races with a will. THE BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP.

The match between Rudolph and Cyrille Dion for $1,000 and the Diamond One will take place this evening at the Hippodrome. There is very little betting, but Rudolph is evidently the favorite as his friends do not hesitate to lay 100 to 60 on his winning. Yesterday morning Cyrille Dion practised by himself for two or three hours, and Rudolph played 60 points with an amateur, with the following score:—

Rudolph—6, 6, 17, 7, 0, 45, 0, 117, 0, 111, 174—800.
Average, 64.5.

Amateur—15, 6, 0, 21, 6, 15, 30, 21, 12, 41. Average, 14.1.

In choosing several of the privileged patrons of the Hippodrome had the pleasure of witnessing a very fine game between Rudolph and Joe Dion. These experts played 1,000 points, at the four ball, cushion and English billiard, and the result was a draw.

Both men played remarkably well, but the Frenchman was the winner. The following is a score of the game:—

Rudolph—65, 45, 0, 0, 6, 156, 154, 7, 0, 6, 237, 27, 39, 1—1,000. Average, 65½.

Joe Dion—108, 27, 6, 39, 0, 9, 6, 9, 222, 27, 24, 51, 125—0. Average, 65.

The Brooklyn Tournament.

Mr. Rogers defeated Mr. Craft last evening by seven points. This was the closest game yet played. The first prize now rests between Mr. Rogers and Mr. Kirby.

WASHINGTON.

Summer on Cuban Belligerency—The President's Foreign Policy Sustained by the Senate—The Indian Delegation at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1870.

The President's Cuban Policy Sustained by the Senate.

If the house should pass resolutions favoring the granting of belligerent rights to the Cubans, as the result of General Banks' report—and it would seem from the present temper of that body that this is not among the impossibilities—what action the Senate is likely to take becomes a matter of interest. Senator Sumner, the chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, would of course be the chief defender of the foreign policy of the administration in that body. His views with regard to Cuba have undergone no change. Secretary Fish and he are known to differ about the Alabama claims, but on the Cuban question they are a unit. Mr. Sumner will oppose any movement likely to result in the acquisition of Cuba, just as he opposes St. Domingo, on the general principle in the acquisition of territory in the tropics. Senator Sumner, like Secretary Fish, is never at a loss for some plausible argument against interfering on behalf of the Cubans, and no matter how many Americans are murdered by the Spanish volunteers, the Senator and the Secretary somehow or other always discover that the Americans were to blame. In a conversation with the Senator to-day your correspondent called his attention to the cases of Speakman and Wyeth, who were shot at Santiago de Cuba, notwithstanding the protest of the American Consul. He immediately replied, "It is a question whether they were American citizens." I suggested that they were certainly not Englishmen, otherwise the Spaniards would have suffered for it.

"I think," said the senator, "we are as quick to punish an outrage upon our citizens as any other government, but you see we must have a clear case to go on before we resort to extreme measures."

"But," said I, "Mr. Fish admits, in his official correspondence on the subject, that these men were American citizens, and all the reparation he demands is a pecuniary contribution from the Spanish government for their families."

"Well, that may be," said the Senator; "but the circumstances surrounding their case were peculiar. They were found in suspicious company, and we could not make the same kind of a demand upon the Spanish government as if they had been residing in Cuba in the pursuit of a peaceful business."

I asked the Senator what he thought of the treatment of Consul Phillips by the Spaniards.
